Overview

The Notes which are based upon the value of the Nasdaq-100 Index® (the "Index") will trade with the ticker symbol PLJC, and the CUSIP number is 17308 C 494.

Description

The Notes are designed for investors who want to participate in possible increases in the Index, subject to a cap, and who are willing to forego market interest payments on the notes during the notes' term. The Index is a modified market-capitalization weighted index of 100 of the largest stocks of non-financial companies listed on The BX Market.

Trading in the Notes on BX is on a UTP basis and is subject to BX equity trading rules. The Notes will trade from 8:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. Eastern Time. For trading during BX's Pre-Market and Post-Market Sessions, market participants should note that additional risks may exist with respect to trading the Notes during these sessions, when the underlying index's values may not be disseminated.

The Notes are unsecured senior debt securities of Citigroup Funding, Inc. and are principal-protected (i.e., at maturity, holders will be entitled to receive no less than the original public offering price). As such, the notes have certain unique characteristics, and investors must receive an explanation of such special characteristics and risks, including, but not limited to, the following:

- The notes combine features of equity and debt instruments. The terms of the notes differ from those of ordinary debt securities in that they do not pay a fixed income at maturity. At maturity, if the value of the Index has increased, an investor will be entitled to receive a payment on the notes but subject to a maximum payment not to exceed $12.80 per note. As a result, an investor will not participate in increases in the Index above 28% of the closing value of the Index on the date the notes are priced for initial sale to the public. The notes guarantee the return of principal at maturity. Therefore, if the value of the Index has declined at maturity, an investor will not receive less than the original public offering price of $10.00 per unit. The payment that an investor will be entitled to receive depends entirely on the relation of the value of the Index on the index valuation date to the closing value of the Index on the date that the notes are priced for initial sale to the public.
- Investing in the notes is not equivalent to investing in the component stocks of the Index.
- As an owner of the notes, an investor will not have any voting rights or rights to receive dividends or other distributions, or any other rights with respect to the stocks underlying the Index.
- The notes will not pay interest. Instead, investors may receive a payment on the notes at maturity and are guaranteed the return of principal.

- Payments due on the notes are unconditionally guaranteed by Citigroup Inc. The notes will rank equally with all other unsecured and unsubordinated debt of Citigroup Funding, and the guarantee of any payments due under the notes will rank equally with all other unsecured and unsubordinated debt of Citigroup Inc.
